Production cost

The messenger is fully responsible for the cost of the production of the message (“the production”).

LightSpira can take care of the complete process or parts of the publishing process.

It is possible to make some parts of the production on a value sharing basis between cocreators. This is reflected in a value sharing agreement.

LightSpira’s intent is to provide services at a very reasonable cost level and with high quality of the production and the service.

Prices and services may be updated at any time with no prior notice.

Value sharing

Revenues can be shared between cocreators. Every production will have a separate value sharing agreement. The value sharing agreement states the percentage of revenues between the different cocreators.

The value sharing agreement also regulates if the revenues are to be paid to an individual or to a company.

LightSpira asks for a share to cover its cost for maintaining the service and will always maintain that share at a very reasonable level. LightSpira’s share of the revenues is regulated in the price/value list.

Reporting and Payment

Sales are reported and settled quarterly. Payments will be made in the last day of the month of the reporting (ie. 30th April, 31st July, 31st October, and 31st January). LightSpira issues a credit invoice. LightSpira reserves the right to set a threshold value for the credit to the paid.

Legal aspects

Cocreation within LightSpira is heart based. In any case of disagreement, then the first thing to do is to have an honest and truthful dialogue about what the disagreement seems to be about. If it is difficult to understand each other's point of view, then dialogue counseling help should be considered first option before any legal advice is being called for.
